Galvesion, Tex., Sept. 23.—The anti-overome conditions which have prevailed for several days over the country east of the Mississippi continue, but the pressure is recoding to the enstward, and the cyclonic area which was cen-tral over the southern portions of Montan and Dakota yesterday evening has moved to the northeast and to-night forms a V running from the Western lakes to Western Nebraska, while the secondary low central yesterday over Chihaahua, Mexico, has moved northward and is central over Colorado. An area of high pressure, is central over Mon and and apparently moving toward the southeast. The temperature has fallen 15 to 20 degrees over Montana, Dakota and Western Minnesota. It has risen over the lakes, East and Southwest Texas and along the North Atlantic coast, In other por-tions the changes have been slight. Forecast for Texas east of the 100th meridian for the twenty-four hours from mid night: Local showers over coast region, fair over other portions. Stationary empera-ture, except cooler Thursday night over the northwestern portions. Easterly winds.

THE telegraph poles and courthouse doors are bearing a good crop of notices of trustees' sales. The alien land law is getting in its work.

THE Farmers' Alliance combine to hold wheat and cotton for higher prices has so far made no impression. There is more cotton in port now than there ever was at this time of year, and more wheat has been put on the market than was ever sold in the same length of time.

As IT raineth alike upon the just and the unjust, so the righteous and the unrighteous are put upon the same footing by the sordid and soulless railway corporations. The Texas roads announce. in the same advertisement, a roundtrip rate of 4 cents a mile to the Dallas Presbyterian convention and to the retail liquor dealers' convention at Aus-

THE Presbyterian synod at San Antonio have resolved that it is wicked to ride in public conveyances on Sunday. such as street cars and the like. A great many sinners, who are not able to keep horses and buggies, will probably stay away from church if it comes to having to walk, being excluded from the street cars. The zeal that is untempered with discretion can do more harm than it can ever mend.

SENATOR BURNEY tells the San Antonio Express, speaking of the alien

"The law is to my judgment all right far as the fee simple title to the land is concerned, and should always have been the law. But in so far as the law would make the pledges of landed securities for loans void, it is, in our present financial condition, carrying the principle too far, and in my judgment, it should, and will no doubt, be modified when the legislature meets. I can see no good reason for pro-hibiting a citizen who has land to pledg and desires to borrow money on it from getting that money from England, Ger-many or anywhere else, provided that it does not permanently place the fee simple title to the land in an alien.

The right to get foreign loans might be assured without declaring the mortgages Longer time even might might be given for closing existing loans, and a time fixed in which foreign parties should dispose of the fee simple if acquired by them. The law, I think, is all right in principle, and not likely to be repealed by the legislature, which is opposed to permanent alien land ownership."

THERE are four classes of people whom the Texas alien land law with the Gossett amendment will benefit. They are:

1. The Yankee money lender, who will lend $1000 on $5000 worth of real estate at 12 per cent. He wouldn't break the usury law, but he will trim as close to it as he can.

2. The local money shark and note shaver, who, taking advantage of the desperation of debtors threatened with foreclosure, shave notes at 5 per cent a month.

3. The land speculators who are now lying low and laying up money to buy the foreelosed mortgaged property at a quarter of its value when the courts begin to decree sales.

4. And the sub-treasury politicians, who look for a big accession to their ranks when men, driven to bankruptey by this law, begins to clutch at the most desperate hope for any kind of relief, and take up the sub-treasury offer as a possible escape from rain. These are the men for whose advantage and profit the Democratic party of Texas is being used.

THE Texas Farmer believes that "if conditions were such that a debt could neither be made nor collected by law, it would be a godsend not to farmers only but to all other producers of wealth. It would play smash, however, with that class of fellows who see to it that our leading dailies are loaded with editorials against such laws as the alien land law."

And it would "play smash," too, with the farmer, laborer or any other man who happened-as a great many of them happen-not to have a lot of eash on hand. It would "play smash" with the farmer who has to make a erop before he can get money to pay for his groceries, and with the laborer who has to wait till the end of the month to get his pay. It would "play smash" with them in very truth, for they would starve unless they could get something to eat on time, which they could not do if a debt could not be enforced against them. A strictly eash basis for everything is a "godsend" to the man who has the cash, but the man who has none and is compelled to buy on time until he can get returns from his work, will find it a godsend that he would rather not have sent to him. How many of the farmers of Texas have enough money now to pay for everything they buy until they make another crop? And if they can't get anything without money, what is going to become

of them?

GREER COUNTY IN COURT. The interminable Green county question has at last got into the courts, and we may look for a judicial decision in favor of Texas or the of United States as to the proprietorship of this bit of longdisputed territory. A man killed another in the limits of Greer county. and he was arrested and tried in a Texas court and under Texas laws, and was convicted. His counsel has applied to the Federal court for a writ of habeas corpus, on the ground that the crime was committed in the Indian Territory and not in Texas, and the Texas courts have no jurisdiction over the offense. This contention rests, of course, upon the assertion that the place of the killing is not under Texas jurisdiction. The issue thus joined will be to decide whether Greer county is in Texas or a part of the Indian Territory. However the decision goes, the case will be appealed to the supreme court of the United States, which will probably settle the controversy that has so long vexed the state and Federal authorities.

A joint commission, on the part of Texas and the United States, tried to find out who this territory belonged to, but all they could do, after going over the matter and taking evidence, was to disagree, the state commissioners reporting that it belonged to Texas and the Federal commissioners that it was a part of the Indian Territory. There the matter rested for some time, and the last congress took it up and tried to provide for a judicial settlement of the question, but this was opposed by some of the Texas congressmen.

Now, however, in spite of this oppo sition, the question has got into the courts, and it will be carried up to the last resort, whose decision, whether absolutely final or not as against any action of congress, will probably be acquiesced in.

EUROPEAN TROUBLES. The nations of Europe are still standing over that celebrated volcano that newspaper correspondents assure us almost weekly is about to burst forth and do the Lord only knows what dire and calamitous things. Kings, crowns and cabinets may be engulfed, governments reduced to fragments and gay capitals to cinders and ashes. There was unusual commotion among all classes a few days ago when a Russian volunteer fleet passed through the Dardanelles into the Mediterranean. Everybody asked, has Russia determined to trample upon treaties and has she at last won the favor of the porte? The feeling of anxiety inspired by this bold step had scarcely subsided when Europe was again stirred from center to circumference by the landing of a few English sailors on the island of Mitylene, near the entrance to the Dardanelles. The incident, at any other time, would scarcely be noticed, but falling out when it did, it was at first regarded as a menace from Great Britain and a fresh illustration of her old habit of taking whatever she can lay her hands on. Whether the incident was calculated or only casual no one knows. Its effect on Europe was electrical enough to excite every bourse on the continent.

Europe is now in the condition of a person, whose constitution is susceptible to the slightest changes in temperature. A puff of the north wind sets him to coughing, and a blast from the swamps causes his bones to rattle with chills. Poverty and hunger, the result of short crops and high taxes, abound, and millions are living from hand to mouth. Discontent among them is inevitable, and with it the susceptibility to those warlike impressions that intriguing cabinets, lying diplomats, and the movements of troops and fleets are constantly creating. The existence of the dreibund, the Franco-Russian alliance, the evident intention of Russia to accomplish the long desired purpose of breaking through treaties and opening the way for her fleets from the Black into the Mediterranean sea, the impatience of Abdul Hamid with the English occupation in Egypt, and above all the nervous energy and uncertain mind of the German war-god William, all taken in connection with the extraordinary and uninterrupted military preparations going on, are enough to agitate and unsettle the popular mind, and dispose it to war thoughts. An empty stomach is always ready for a riot or a shindy. And empty stomaches are becoming as plentiful in Europe now as empty heads of the sub-treasury persuasion are in this country.

LET HER GO, GALLAGHER.

Young Mitchell" Knocked Him Out in Thirteen Rounds-A Racer at Garfield Park Breaks His Neck.

Herget-Gallagher. SAN FRANCISCO, CAL, Sept. 23.—The fight to-night between Johnny Herget, known as "Young Mitchell," California's representative middleweight puglist, and Reddy Galiagher, Denverite, attracted more interest than any similar event which has taken place in this city gines the Corbett Jackson contest and the which has taken place in this city since the Corbett-Jackson contest, and the rooms of the new Occidental clubs were crowded at an early hour in the evening. The fight was for a $5000 purse, of which $75 was to go the loser. Betting was brisk and from odds of $100 to $70 on Mitchell, it varied to partly are more whefers the fight becan nearly even money before the fight began. Mitchell's weight was 154. His seconds were Jack Dempsey and Sam Fitzpatrick. Galla-gher weighed 153, and was seconded by Masterson and Jimmie Carroll. Peter Jackson was referee. Both men appeared in the pink of condition. Mitchell was somewhat fleshier than his muscular opponent.

Gallagher stopped Mitchell's ruseasily, one with a straight left on chin. The battle opened at 8:59 with Gallagher feinting for the opening and Mitchell breaking ground. Gallagher got in two hot lefts in his wind and one eye. His terrible left played havoc with "Mitchell's" head and wind, the latter being unable to counter effectively. The second round was also marked by ushing by Gallagher.

From the third to the sixth round the tactics were much the same. Gallagher's long left usually reached its mark, as he maintained his position near the middle of the ring, while Mitchell played around him, taking every opening that presented, but in ducking almost invariably catching the terific left full in the face. the terific left full in the face.

At the close of the fourth round Galla-gher's left eye was badly swollen from a right-hander. Mitchell playing for his ribs scored twice effectually, but Gallagher's vicious drives for his chin kept him from a too frequent repartition. too frequent repetition.

The sixth was marked by hurricane fighting. Gallagher scored a straight left on Mitchell's chin, but lacked a shade of a knockout effort. Mitchell also fcored two hard ones on Reddy's jaw.

The close of the seventh round found Gal-agher lacking steam.

From the eighth to the twelfth round From the eighth to the twelfth round honors were about even, though Mitch-ell was apparently more confident of the two. Both men were now exchanging blows from muscle and Gallagher's injured optic was bleeding freely at the end of the twelfth from frent left band visitation.

In the thirteenth Gallagher came up a triffe dazed but landed two straight lefts under Mitchell's chin. Michell suddenly came back at him with a right on the neck and a left on the chin. Gallagher reeled and fell on his knees, made a slight effort to rise but

Ex-Governor Morehouse of Missouri Cuts His Throat-Biographical Sketch of the Decrased.

KANSAS CITT, Mo., Sept. 23.-A special from Marysville, Mo., says: Ex-Governor Albert P. Morehouse committed suicide at his residence at 9 o'clock this morning. Several weeks ago the governor was violently overheated while driving cattle and has been in a very nervous condition since. At times he has been delirious and very much depressed. He was taken out for a drive by friends last night, but became so much excited that he was brought hame and a physician was called. He have became so much excited that he was brought home and a physician was called. He tecame quieter during the night, and this morning was sleeping. Two watchers were in another room. They heard a gurgling noise in the governor's room, and on entering found him lying on the floor, blood spurting from his throat. He had cut a gash in the left side of his throat about four inches long. The weapon was a pocket, knife which he still held in his right hand. He had folded up his cont and vest and He had folded up his cont and vest and placed them under his head. Governor Morehouse was born in Dela-

Robinson was elected on the first ballot.
The vote was: Robinson 141, Daiseli 42, the money he could. Further inquiry also showed that he had not gone with the chil-dren to his mother's. Mrs. White was re-luctantly forced to yield to the conviction that she had been robbed of her children and deserted by her husband. While grieving at his conduct she feit so outraged Special to the Gazette, Waco, Tex., Sept. 23.—To-night Mrs. H. E. Hulbert missed her boy, Willie, age three years, from his bed, and a searching at it that, had he gone alone, no pursuit, would have plagued him; but the loss of her children was more than she would submit to, and she has succeeded in tracing him to Chicago, then to St. Louis, thence here.

When the Frisco train came in yesterday, the White and her heather lobe St. Weit. party was immediately organized. The hunt continued for fully an hour, and on returning to the room the child was found sleeping soundly. He could not be aroused, and physicians were summoned who aroused him. He rubbed his eyes and asked where the man was, and looked
